

Jay “Jeezy” Jenkins

Jay “Jeezy” Jenkins is a Grammy – nominated multiplatinum rap superstar, entrepreneur, philanthropist, and media multihyphenate. Over the course of his legendary career, the world-renowned artist has had three #1 Billboard albums, sold more than five million albums worldwide, multiple chart-topping hits, and an unbroken streak of Top Ten albums. As an excellent conversationalist, he hosts The (Re)Session Podcast and Worth A Conversation with Jeezy television show.

While music is his talent, business is his passion. As an entrepreneur, Jeezy’s portfolio includes:

- ❖ Senior Advisor to the Chairman of Def Jam Recordings
- ❖ Naud Spirits & Distillery - Partner
- ❖ Defiance Fuel - Investor
- ❖ Agency99 - Founder

Jeezy was able to change the trajectory of his life with the help of hip-hop, but he realized everyone was not afforded the same opportunities. He founded The Street Dreamz Foundation, a non-profit organization, created to reach back and help the community that had always supported him. The foundation began making an impact over 20 years ago, by aiding and providing a way out for the underserved in the community. The Street Dreamz Foundation initiatives include Technology, Health, Entrepreneurship, and Financial Literacy.

Jeezy has been recognized for his community service efforts by the City of Atlanta. He is a two-time recipient of the Phoenix Award – the highest honor an individual can receive from the city; presented to him consecutively by Atlanta Mayors, Kasim Reed and Keshia Lance Bottoms.
